

Call for presentation

The Institution for the Protection of Minority Rights organises its traditional autumn conference called 'Minority Protection in the Carpathian-basin'. This year, because of the pandemic situation, the event will be held online.

On the third day of the conference, our Institution would like to offer an opportunity to hold a presentation for Ph.D. students, Ph.D. candidates, or young researchers.

Date: 12-13-14 November 2020

Date of the young researcher's presentations: 14 November 2020

Deadline: 16 October 2020

The conference will be held via Zoom application

How to apply: by e-mail (jogvedo.intezet@kji.hu), with an abstract on max. 2000 words (with spaces and with a short CV

The subject of the presentation: legal or other relevant social scientific (e.g. political sciences) presentations about the protection of the Hungarian minorities living in the Carpathian-basin or the protection of ethnic minorities in general – in the national legal system, in the European or the international level

Duration of the presentation: 20 – 30 minute

Languages: Hungarian or English

Publication: after the coordination with the editors, in the light of the reviewing process, the Presenter could submit a paper to the Minority Protection scientific journal

The attendance and the presentation are free of charge.

If you need any additional assistance, please contact us (jogvedo.intezet@kji.hu).

Budapest, 29 September 2020

Csóti György

Institution for the Protection of Minority
Rights
Director

Prof. Dr. Bándi Gyula

Foundation for the Protection of Minority
Rights
President